SUMMARY

A full-stack web developer taking advantage of a modeling background to be able to develop an enticing web experience for users. Graduated from the full stack development course through the University of Denver, with a solid grasp in JavaScript, CSS, SQL, NoSQL, web API's, and MERN stack. Known for being a hard worker who's invested in developing intuitive web applications for the user. I put forth an attention to detail with solid communication to the rest of the team to create a project that engages the user when interacting with the application.

Technical Skills

- Languages: JavaScript ES6+, CSS3, HTML5, SQL, NoSQL
